RESEARCH-BASED

Why we conduct research...

Research about the benefits of tea consumption is critical in a world where chronic disease is no longer an exception, and where health disparities persist. Something to consider is the fact that chronic disease presents itself at younger age groups, wherefore we at Drink Our Hi-G want to focus our attention on all consumers and potential consumers.

Did you know that the plant-based community is rapidly growing in the U.S.?
So why not talk about the most obvious plant-based beverage, and find out what's in a cup of tea?

Our research team of students in the field of public health, and with expertise in nutrition, community-based participatory research and more, will present you relevant information, host events on social media, conduct surveys and bring events to you and your community.

Are you ready to talk about Tea? Learn how to network in the plant-based community and develop social marketing campaigns that impact the public's health? Do you want to do something more creative with your public health experience? Let's dig a little deeper and go beyond our cup. Stay connected and follow us on social media

TEAS & TISANES

Herbal Teas

Our Herbal Tea blends (Tisanes), a collection of flowers, fruits, roots, herbs and spices, lock in all the health benefits and leave our customers with the best tasting brew of our unique tea and tisane blends!

Our signature ingredients of Hibiscus and Ginger (Hi-G), are found in most of our tea blends, providing you with the maximum antioxidants and anti-inflammatory properties.

Green & White Teas

Green and White Teas teas have a unique flavor, and have become increasingly popular for their many health benefits. We pride ourselves on this collection harvested from the Hills of Rwanda, infused with a variety of fruits, roots, flowers, herbs and spices, to create soothing, relaxing, energy boosting, and entertaining flavors, that will definitely create dedicated customers.

Tea Spa Products

Our skin, the largest organ of our body, has the amazing ability to absorb the antioxidants and other nutrients offered through multiple tea blends, using a variety of ways, to include: facial steaming, foot baths, bath tub soaking, facial mask to name a few. Don't miss out on these tea spa products to spoil yourself and your loved ones.

OUR LEGACY

This company was created in honor of my dear father,
Wilfred Wikkeling, a man who loved life and loved tradition.

Pappie, I always love you and treasure the inspiration you have given me to work hard and laugh even harder.

Your daughter,
Ludmilla
